A STATE OF VEILED WAR

Members of the Foreign Legations in China Are Virtually Prisoners.

MENACED BY REACTIONARIES

Opinion Is General That International Force Is Not Large Enough to Cope with the Situation.

London, June 16.—This is the situation in China as it appears to the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express, cabling last evening:

"It is really a state of veiled war. The members of the foreign legations in Pekin are virtually prisoners, and the Chinese troops are only restrained from attacking them by fear of the legation guards.

"Meanwhile the ministers are altogether unable to communicate with the commanders of the relief column which is making an enforced and isolated halt between Tien Tsin and Pekin.

"The walls of the capital are guarded by 100,000 imperial troops. The gates are heavily defended with modern guns. General Tung, acting under orders from the empress says that no more foreign troops have or shall enter the sacred city.

"On Monday the ministers sent a demand to the Tsung-li-yamen that the gates be opened, declaring that otherwise the foreign troops would enter forcibly. To this no reply was given. A second message went unanswered when the latest news left Pekin.

"Sir Claude MacDonald's latest message says that the legations are capable of sustaining an effective defense unless attacked in force."

Despite this, correspondent asserts, notwithstanding assurances to the contrary, sides with China. Some of the foreign troops are already reported to be in the environs of Pekin and the attitude of the Chinese troops is increasingly menacing.

"The streets of Pekin," continues the correspondent of the Daily Express, "are reported to be seething with anti-foreign mobs, clamoring for the destruction of the legations and the death of the foreign ministers. Even were the Tsung-li-yamen disposed to restrain the violence of the reactionaries it is considered highly improbable that they would be able to hold them in check. For the foreign ministers the crisis will arise when the relief column comes in sight of Pekin.

"It is still felt here that the foreign force is wholly inadequate to battle with the hordes of Chinese troops massed outside the gates which now include the imperial troops from Shan Hai Kwan."

A disquieting element in the situation is the fact that although the Russo-Chinese telegraph line from Pekin via Kiakhta (Eastern Siberia) is working, the transmission of messages is rigidly refused.

From Tien Tsin it is reported that the foreign forces in the harbor will attack the Taku forts and if necessary bombard them.

The international column appears to be still at Lang Fan engaged in slowly repairing the railway which, according to a dispatch from Tien Tsin to the Daily Mail, dated June 14, cannot be effected for weeks. The force is short of provisions and as it is without field transport it must stick to the railway.

The report that the mixed forces will seize the Taku forts is taken to mean that the foreign commanders expect no aid from the Chinese government in repressing the disorders and are determined to make Taku secure as a base from which to operate.

The Monocacy arrived this afternoon at Taku and, if there were an emergency, by pushing on up the river she could have reached Tien Tsin before dark. The Monocacy on such a short trip could easily carry fully 500 men [illegible] the safety of the foreigners at Tien Tsin is assured.

Should it be decided to send troops from Manila to China there are now available at Manila the big transports Logan and Warren with a capacity of about 3,000 troops, the Sherman is due at Manila July 1, and the Pennsylvania and Indiana and several other smaller crafts are available.

Among the foreign representatives in Washington the information that the United States would probably augment its military force in China was received with satisfaction, especially in English and Japanese circles.

THE UNITED STATES WILL AUGMENT FORCE IN CHINA

Washington, June 15. Owing to their natural reluctance to employ troops [illegible] at this season, and the hesitation of the war department to supply such troops except under pressure, the officials this afternoon were considering [illegible]

This contemplated the putting out of commission of several of the big ships attached to Admiral Kempff's fleet, notably the Oregon, and the addition of the sailors and marines so released to Admiral Kempff's landing force. The big ships carry, on an average, more than 300 men each.

There is a growing belief that it will be necessary to organize another expeditionary force at Tien Tsin to maintain the communications of Admiral Seymour's column, which, with limited supplies, will be in severe need very shortly unless it can force its way through to Pekin.

ST. LOUIS STRIKERS HAVE MODIFIED THEIR DEMANDS

St. Louis, June 15.—By a practically unanimous vote, the striking Street Railway Men's union decided today to accept the new proposition presented by their executive committee and to empower the executive committee to settle on the basis of the clause relating to reinstatement without reference to the union.

This action was brought about through the influence of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who arrived in St. Louis last night and was present at the mass meeting which was held at the West End Coliseum this morning. A new plan of settlement is, therefore, now in the hands of the executive committee. It varies but little from the previous propositions, except in the paragraph which provides for the reinstatement of the men.

The paragraph leaves the executive board free to negotiate with the traction company and secure the best terms possible, or to arrange for an arbitration of the question. It is no longer demanded that all the strikers shall be taken back.

At the Coliseum meeting Clarence Richeson, the orator of the strikers, and several others of their leaders held out stoutly for the demand that all or none of the men be returned to work.

Mr. Gompers plainly stated that a settlement on that basis was absolutely impossible. He said that if the men held out for that they would never get it.

Mr. Gompers then told them that up to the present time there had been too many men working on the settlement. He said the affair should be placed in the hands of one man or set of men, and urged that the executive committee be given power to settle the strike without referring the matter back to the union. After some discussion this action was taken by a practically unanimous vote.

At 4:30 o'clock the new proposition was presented to Judge Henry S. Priest, attorney of the Transit company, who took the matter under advisement and said the company would return its answer tomorrow.

GENERAL FUNSTON ROUTED INSURGENTS NEAR PAPAYA

Manila, June 15. Upon information furnished by Wheeler to the effect that General Lacuna intended to attack [illegible] village of Mabolo, General Funston, with staff officers, Captain Koehler and Troop G of the Fourth cavalry and half a company of the Twenty-fourth infantry, repaired to Papaya. General Lacuna was found with 300 men occupying a position on a ridge seven miles south of the town. General Funston attacked him vigorously, sixty Americans charging the enemy under a hot fire. The insurgents fled.

On their attempting to make a stand later Captain Koehler with a detachment of troops charged and scattered them.

The pursuit over the rough country lasted until night fall. Twenty-two of the insurgents were killed. One American was killed and one wounded.

AN APPEAL FOR PEACE

Hanna Urges Delaware Republicans to Settle Their Differences.

OTHER CONTESTS SETTLED

Delaware Case Referred Back to Sub-Committee---Independent Action of National Committee.

Philadelphia, June 15.—The Republican national committee today put in three long sessions on the contests which have been brought before it and adjourned late tonight with the controversies practically disposed of except that from Delaware. This has been referred back to the sub-committee with instructions to again endeavor to bring the factions to a basis of agreement and will receive final action tomorrow.

An important action today was the seating of the Brownlow delegates in the Tennessee contest and refusing admission to the friends of Pension Commissioner Evans. The contest was very bitter and at one time there was the possibility of a serious encounter between Brownlow and Evans.

The most interesting incident of the day was reserved until late in the afternoon. It was a speech by Senator Hanna on the Delaware case in which he made an impassioned appeal for the burial of the hatchet between the Addicks and the Dupont-Higgins factions. The Delaware controversy was brought to the front by a report in the case made by the sub-committee appointed to make an effort to bring the two factions to a basis of agreement. When this report was called for exceptional precautions were taken to prevent the escape of any word of the proceedings to the corridors.

Committeeman Cummings of Iowa presented the report of the sub-committee. He said that he and his colleagues had made an earnest appeal to the leaders on both sides to subordinate their private interests and their prejudices to the general welfare and interests of the party. They had been asked, he said, to unite, each side accepting fair representation. The Addicks people had assured him that this arrangement would be satisfactory to them, but the opposing delegation had held out for absolute recognition, agreeing to make proper effort to secure harmony in state and national contests.

There was a proposition to seat the Addicks delegation, but this was met with a suggestion to recommit the matter to the sub-committee with instructions to make sure efforts to bring the contesting factions together. Mr. Hanna took the floor in support of this latter proposition. He only occupied about five minutes time, but he spoke with great earnestness. His speech was an appeal for unity of action, and he said that no effort should be spared to accomplish this end. He referred to the objection of the Dupont-Higgins people to Mr. Addicks, and said that opposition to no one man could be allowed to stand in the way of party success in Delaware or elsewhere.

"I am satisfied," he continued, "that I reflect the sentiment of the president in my appeal to secure a settlement of this case and this cause is one that appeals to the common sense of every man here. We must put aside personalities, rise above petty prejudices and take our stand on the broader plane of patriotism and party success. The committee cannot afford to take up the personal cause of any set of men, much less can it afford to espouse the cause of any individual."

Continuing, he said that contingencies might possibly arise in which Delaware would settle a national contest and it was especially important that the possible effect upon the United States should be borne in mind. True, there was a safe Republican majority in the senate at present, but no one could tell what emergency might arise or what changes might occur.

Concluding, Senator Hanna said:

"I feel an intense interest in this case because of its possible bearing upon national politics and I appeal to you, indeed, I supplicate the Delaware Republicans of both parties to forget that there has ever been a factional fight in the party in your state, and to unite in the interest of the common cause and it will not do to forget that the responsibility for any mistake that is made will be fastened upon those who make it."

The senator's utterances were liberally applauded by members of the committee and when he concluded there was no opposition to the recommital of the question.

The action of the committee in the various contests has caused it to be generally remarked that it has not been influenced in the least by the leaders. Senator Hanna's friends from the south, especially the officeholders, have received scant consideration. Where there were rival factions of office holders, as in Alabama, both sides have been denied seats. The defeat of Wimberly in Louisiana and the Eleventh of Warmouth is said to have been distinctly antagonistic to the wishes of the close friends of the administration as Mr. Wimberly was supposed by the administration in the fight that was made against his confirmation when he was appointed collector of the port of New Orleans. It was in opposing this confirmation that Warmouth took occasion to make some bitter remarks about Senator Hanna, who was supporting Wimberly. In the New York case it is asserted that the decision was against Senator Platt and other cases are instanced by the members of the committee as examples of independent action.

The evening session was devoted to the hearing of arguments in the contests from Texas. There were seven cases from that state, including two delegates from the state at large and the First, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Ninth districts. In a general way it was over the selection of a member of the national committee. This position is now occupied by John Grant, while E. H. R. Green and Representative Hawley are both credited with aspirations to fill the office. Technically, the first involved the regularity of the various conventions, state and district. In the case of the state convention, both sides claim regularity. Both conventions chose Mr. Green and Mr. Hawley as delegates, so there is no contest on them, but the Green convention named in addition William M. McDonald and W. M. Rogers, while the other convention named C. M. Ferguson and George E. Jackson. These last named pairs were pitted against each other.

The hearing was begun on the First district. With but little discussion Walter T. Burns and John Atkins, Hawley delegates, were seated.

The Fourth and Fifth districts were passed. When the Sixth district was taken up it was decided that neither delegation should be represented on the temporary roll.

C. A. Boynton and J. H. Childs, Hawley delegates, were seated from the Seventh district.

The committee then adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN ARE TO BE WELL REPRESENTED

Philadelphia, June 15.—The first of the women Republican workers to arrive is Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, who took rooms at the Hotel Walton last night. More than 50 co-workers of Mrs. Foster will arrive during the week. They will have no trouble getting good seats at the convention hall, for their campaign labors have been recognized as of great value and they are constantly increasing their machinery for promoting the success of the Republican party. They will take a lively interest in the proceedings of the convention, will confer with the delegates and leaders from every part of the country, and before they separate will make preliminary plans for their campaign. "We are not all young in experience in politics," said Mrs. Foster. "Most of us have been students of politics for many years. We organized in 1888, and the convention of that year in Chicago was the first we attended. Since then we have attended the party conventions, have been consulted by the Republican leaders and had a great amount of labor, principally in the distribution of literature."

Within a day or two headquarters for the association will be opened at the Walton. Entertainments for the visiting women are being arranged by the New Century and other women's clubs of the city and there will be for them no lack of social as well as political enjoyment.

(Among notable members of the association who will be here are the secretary, Mrs. Chase, of Rhode Island; Mrs. Mary Lockwood, of Washington, editor of the magazine of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who is a Republican and spoke upon the campaign stump; Mrs. Helen Varick Boswell, a well known writer of New York; Miss K. F. Pierce, of Boston; Mrs. Sarah Dean, of Washington; Mrs. Fannie Gresham, of Texas; Mrs. Farrar, of Minnesota, and Miss Mary Yostwood of Washington.

JONES SAYS DEMOCRATS WILL NOT BE HELD UP

Kansas City, June 15.—Six members of the national Democratic committee's sub-committee on arrangements for the Kansas City convention held a brief meeting here today. The members came particularly to investigate the oft repeated charges that the Kansas City hotel keepers are demanding extortionate rates for the entertainment of convention guests.

Before the sub-committee left Kansas City this evening, National Chairman James K. Jones issued a statement to the country in which he gives assurance that not only can accommodations be had at reasonable rates but as the situation appears to him visitors to Kansas City will be taken care of at more reasonable rates than has been the case at any former convention.

The sub-committee also carefully investigated the progress being made in the building of convention hall. Some doubt was expressed by members of the committee that the great hall could be completed by July 4 and there was talk of urging the local committee to have a night shift of mechanics put to work upon the building, but after the sub-committee had been in conference with the local committee and the supervising architects they no longer doubted and accepted the assurances that the hall will be finished in time.

The meeting of the sub-committee was behind closed doors. After the adjournment it was stated that the only business of public interest transacted was the apportionment of tickets of admission to the convention among the delegates and alternates.

It was decided that each of the 930 delegates should receive besides his own seat, four tickets of admission, to all the sessions, but that no extra tickets would be given to the alternates, their perquisites being limited to a seat in the convention. Some of the members favored giving each alternate an extra ticket but this proposition was voted down.

Judge Wilson of Colorado displayed a sample of the Democratic campaign button here today. It is in the form of a clover leaf. The inscription, strangely enough, is in gold letters and is as follows:

"Democracy stands for bimetallism, not monometallism."

"People, not trusts."

"Republic, not empire."

THE NEWS OF CRIPPLE CREEK

Wild Cat Mining Company Throttled by a Jury.

CASE IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Lease on the Lonaconing is Involved in a Suit Begun Yesterday—Death of Mrs. Harrison.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, June 15.—A case was decided by a jury before Judge Stevens in division 1 of the district court this evening, which gives another blow to wild-cat mining enterprises. The defendant in the case is the Silver Sisters G. M. Co., a West Virginia corporation. The plaintiff, Charles Bannerot, alleged that a representative of the defendant company, told him that the company owned five valuable mines near Cameron, which were producing ore that assayed from $60 to $2,600 a ton and that treasury stock of the company was selling at 15 cents a share. On this representation he purchased 20,000 shares of stock at the price named. On investigation it was found that none of the property owned by the company was producing any real ore, that the best that could be found contained but a trace of gold and that the stock was worthless. He brought suit for the full amount of money paid to the company.

The testimony developed the fact that the whole enterprise was a scheme well devised to take in the gullible. Judge Richmond and V. H. Miller, attorneys for the plaintiff, demonstrated that such a scheme will not be sustained by a Cripple Creek jury. The jury on the finding of facts in the case brought in a verdict for the plaintiff and Judge Stevens will fix the amount of the verdict.

Lonaconing Lease Suit.

John L. McDonald began suit in the district court today against Christ Isaacson and others, the Taylor & Brunton Sampling company being one of the defendants.

The suit involves a lease on block 3 of the Lonaconing of the Kimberly G. M. Co. The complaint states that prior to November 13, 1899, McDonald and Isaacson were joint lessees of the property named, each having an undivided one-half interest. The lease was run until May 1st of the present year. On November 13, they entered into an agreement that Isaacson should take all of the lease except a one-eighth interest which McDonald retained. The complaint alleges that in some way the other defendants in the case have acquired some interest in the lease and have mined valuable ore to the extent of $10,000 and have refused to settle with the plaintiff or to render to him any account. They have also obtained an extension of the lease for another year. They have shipped the ore to the Taylor & Brunton sampler.

Judge Stevens today issued a temporary injunction as prayed by the plaintiff restraining Taylor & Brunton from paying the defendants the proceeds of the ore on the lease except the royalty to the Kimberly G. M. Co., and restraining the other defendants from withdrawing any unpaid proceeds from the interest of McDonald. He entered an order that until the final hearing of the case, the defendants shall deposit one-eighth of the proceeds of the ore with the clerk of the court, less the royalty thereon.

The case of Asmussen & Co. vs. W. J. Donnelly et al., and the Master Plumbers' association was on hearing before Judge Stimson today in division 1 of the district court. The plaintiff company asked the court for an order to restrain the defendants from interfering with the business of the plaintiff. The attorneys for the plaintiff company were given until next Wednesday to file briefs setting forth why the order should issue.

Articles of incorporation of the St. Louis Mining and Milling company were filed in the office of the county recorder today. The capital stock of the company is $100,000, divided into shares of a par value of $1 each, which are non-assessable. The company will be under the management of seven directors. The principal place of business will be Aspen, Colo.

Suit Against Pullen.

The case of contempt against W. B. Pullen was dismissed in the county court today by Judge Seeds. Attorneys Early and Markham, who preferred the charges of contempt of court, have brought suit against Mr. Pullen for damages of $1,000 which they claim to have sustained by being ousted from their office in Mr. Pullen's building.

Daniel Cooney who was found seven miles south of this city yesterday, died of exposure at the county hospital today at 2 o'clock. He was about 40 years of age and was employed on the grading gang of the Colorado, Springs and Cripple Creek District railway. Relatives at Ackley, Ia., have been notified.

Mrs. Susan J. Harrison, age 48, died at 8 o'clock this morning of paralysis at her home in Gold Hill gulch. Her death was very sudden, she having been taken ill only at midnight last night. The deceased was the wife of H. A. Harrison, a prospector who has been away from home for some time, and who returned today. She leaves one son and four daughters. The funeral will be held Sunday at 4 o'clock at the Baptist church in charge of the White Undertaking company.

KRUGER IS FOR PEACE

According to Lourenzo Marques Correspondent Steyn Now Holds Out.

NEWS OF FIGHTING EXPECTED

Boers East of Pretoria Withdrew---Four Other Companies Said to Have Been Captured.

London, June 16 (4 a. m.).—Lord Roberts' dispatches leave affairs east of Pretoria with the Boers withdrawn to new positions Tuesday. News of fresh fighting is expected at the war office but none came last night.

General Rundle's patrol had a skirmish with Boer videttes again Wednesday. Some wonder is expressed here as to what he is doing with three divisions. It is assumed by some that General Buller will move into Orange River colony and co-operate with Lord Methuen and General Rundle in hagging President Steyn and his 7,000 or 8,000 followers.

Part of Christian Botha's force has halted at Poordekop, eighteen miles northwest of Volksrust. Boer parties are still near Volksrust and fire occasionally upon the British pickets.

The British government is considering whether a substantial force should not be sent to China from South Africa. It is though unofficially that Lord Roberts could spare a brigade or two and the necessary transports are now in South African waters. The commander of the expedition, it is said, would probably be Sir William Nicholson.

A dispatch from Lourenzo Marques, dated yesterday, says:

"Persons have arrived here who have seen the preparations of the Boers and learned that they will retire when forced, through the Lydenburg district into the Zoutpansberg region, adjoining Tonkin-land.

The Daily Mail has a dispatch from Bloemfontein dated Wednesday, saying:

"General Lewett's attack on the rail way was made after he had succeeded in luring General Methuen from where he had destroyed the line. Then he cleverly seized it north of Kroonstadt, blew up the bridge and destroyed a long section of the line with dynamite."

Major General Baden-Powell has been appointed to the rank of lieutenant general.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in a dispatch dated yesterday, says:

"I understand that General Dewet in addition to the Derbyshire battalion, captured two companies of the city volunteers and two companies of yeomanry, two men only escaping to tell the tale."

The Lourenzo Marques correspondent of the Times says:

"It appears that Steyn and not Krueger is now the stumbling block in the way of the surrender of the burghers. Shortly after the British entry into Pretoria Mr. Krueger proposed to reopen the peace negotiations. Mr. Steyn, bearing in mind that his former advice was scouted, demurred to this and pointed out that, according to the treaty between the republics, neither could conclude peace without the other. Mr. Krueger, equally unwilling to incur the charge of a breach of faith, had to continue the war.

"Nothing further is known regarding the rumored peace negotiations; but it is a matter of notoriety that Mr. Krueger favors peace on almost any terms but dislikes personally to take an initiative that would involve unconditional surrender.

"Ninety-seven builders out of 200 in one commando have returned to their homes."

LORD ROBERTS REPORTS SURRENDER OF KLERKSDORP

London June 16.—The war office issues the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Pretoria, June 14, 10:40 p. m. Klerksdorp surrendered on June 8 to an armed party sent on by Hunter.

"Kitchener reports that the Boers this morning a few miles north of Rhenoster river. He sent out mounted troops and drove off the enemy before they could do damage. One man was killed and 11 wounded including two officers.

"A messenger from Klerksdorp reports that Cronje, who commanded there, determined to surrender as soon as he knew [illegible] was in our possession. His example has been copied by many in the neighborhood."

Major General Baden-Powell has been appointed to the rank of lieutenant general.

"By the peaceful occupation of Klerksdorp, announced by Lord Roberts, the town of some importance, as the town is not only the terminus of another railroad to Johannesburg, but it is within easy reach of the Kroonstadt-Vierfontein railroad.

The Cronje who surrendered the place is a son of the famous General Cronje, now a prisoner at St. Helena.

ANACONDA IS IN NEW HANDS

Mr. John T. Milliken and Associates Have the Notes Against the Company and all the Moffat-Smith Stock—A Good Proposition For Stockholders.

There will be a new Anaconda company.

And if the stockholders wish it the existing company's debt, amounting to about $125,000, will be entirely wiped out and a new start made with a great big block of stock and money in the treasury.

The First National Bank of Denver no longer holds the notes against the Anaconda Gold Mining company and Messrs. D. H. Moffat, Eben Smith and associates no longer own any shares in the company. The notes and the stock now belong to Mr. John T. Milliken and associates, and they will assume control of affairs in a very short while. Having no further interest in the company, the present board of directors and officers have handed in their resignations. The new board of directors has not yet been chosen but all this will be settled next week when full announcements will be duly made.

Mr. Milliken and his associates, who are now in control of the Anaconda company's affairs, have in contemplation the formation of a new company to take over the holdings of the existing company which shall have a capitalization of $2,000,000 divided into 2,000,000 shares of a par value of $1 each. The old company has a capitalization of $5,000,000 divided into 1,000,000 shares of a par value of $5 each. It is proposed that holders of the old stock shall exchange it share for share for the new issue, thereby leaving 1,000,000 shares of the new stock in the treasury to be used to liquidate the debt and provide the treasury with a large surplus fund.

The proposed new deal means that stockholders get back practically all their present holdings and the company is relieved of a debt which otherwise must have resulted in the winding up of the company's affairs or the voluntary assessment by all stockholders at the rate of 15 cents per share. It will be seen, of course, that with the increase of the number of shares two to one the present stockholder in making the exchange secures directly only half the interest in the company that he formerly held. This, however, is the direct result only for as a matter of fact every stockholders will continue to own a pro rata interest in the 500,000 shares remaining in the treasury and on the other hand the debt of $125,000 or the assessment of 15 cents per share will be done away with. The 500,000 shares in the treasury represent a quarter of the whole and therefore the stockholder's interest which had been directly reduced to one-half is advanced to a three-quarters interest and the remaining quarter represented by the payment of the debt, the reorganization of the company and the release from the necessity of an assessment on the part of all stockholders.

But all of this cannot be done unless the stockholders wish or unless at least two-thirds of them signify by vote either in person or by proxy their willingness or desire to have the proposed transaction consummated. At the first meeting of the new board of directors to be held next week the plans will be consummated and a circular issued to the stockholders making a full and proper explanation and calling for an expression of opinion, asking them to vote in favor of the new company. The new management promises an economical and proper conduct of the company's affairs, to pay no exorbitant or fancy salaries, and to conduct a line of development work likely to make a profitable producer out of the company's undisputedly valuable holdings.

It would seem that the stockholders [illegible] in control to get practically whole on their Anaconda holdings and that it should be grasped by those who have the power to say aye and nay.

The news of Anaconda's coming resurrection and the promise that the old stockholders' interests are to receive serious consideration is very welcome. A few weeks ago with an impossible voluntary assessment or the sale of the property to satisfy the notes held by the First National Bank of Denver, hanging over the company's future, things looked pretty blue, but now the beginning of the end of the troubles seems to be near and it remains only for the stockholders to signify their wishes in the matter and the thing will be done.

If two-thirds of the stockholders should fail to respond or not agree with the proposed reorganization of the company, then the present holders of the notes will proceed to foreclose. But the stockholders will be given plenty of time to come to a decision and nothing in the nature of a freeze-out will be attempted if the stockholders are any way pliable or agreeable to the proposed plans.

HAIL AT FOUNTAIN

Terrific Storm Destroyed Crops and Did Much Other Damage—It was a Record Breaker.

(Special Correspondence.)

Fountain, June 15.—A terrific hail storm occurred here shortly after 6 o'clock last evening.

The clouds gathered about the head of Dead Man's canon and traveled in an easterly direction. The path of the storm was about three miles wide. Torrents of water and hail fell for more than half an hour. Much of the hail measured six to seven inches in circumference, destroying everything as it went, crops of all kinds, fruit and fruit trees, garden vegetables. All a total loss. Great damage was done to houses and buildings, even buildings covered with corrugated iron roofing were pierced as with bullets.

FOOD CURE

Results in Change of Diet are Wonderful.

"Good food, properly selected, will in my opinion, cure almost any ordinary disease. I want to tell you my experience and of my recovery by the selection of the proper diet. I am a business woman, very closely confined indoors, with considerable care and anxiety. Some time ago I had a severe case of the grippe and after recovering from it had a serious time following, as many people do.

"I was unable to get well until I changed my diet, leaving off Mocha and Java coffee and taking on Postum Food Coffee in its place, and taking up Grape-Nuts breakfast food. This winter I have given both a fair and continued trial and the results are superb. I am restored to perfect health and strength and as you claim, I have a 'new type force' bodily and mentally, that carries me through many hard places.

"I cannot praise the food too much, for it will, if steadily used cure all disturbances of the system caused by the depressions in grippe or malarial poison. Postum that contains the most powerful rebuilding elements, can be made as follows, hot milk brought to a boil, break in two fresh eggs and as soon as the eggs are in, pour the boiling milk and eggs over some Grape-Nuts in a soup dish. No breakfast of meat can be so good.

"I use Grape-Nuts in this way every morning and have no sense of lack of food all day. I have kept well and remarkably free from colds all winter which I attribute to a fine condition of health brought about by the use of the famous food and of Postum Food Coffee." (Grape-Nuts are perfectly cooked at factory and are usually served cold, with a little cream or milk.) Mrs. C. S. Woodward, 24 Grenada street, St. Augustine, Fla.

The oldest inhabitants in the valley have never experienced as destructive a storm as occurred here last evening.

An estimate of the loss caused can scarcely be given, but will reach up in the many thousands.

The citizens of Fountain and vicinity will remember the evening of the 15th day of June, 1900, for many years to come.

OHIO MAN WINS AT AMERICAN HANDICAP

New York, June 15.—The first annual grand American handicap tournament at Inter State park was finished today with a consolation handicap which was won by Ralph Worthington of Cleveland. He was handicapped on the sixteen yard mark and broke ninety-three targets out of a possible 100. R. G. Heikes of Dayton, Ohio, who won the Grand American yesterday was scratch man today being placed on the twenty-three yard mark while J. S. Fanning and J. A. R. Elliott, the back mark men of yesterday got an advantage of one yard ahead of him. The result showed that the yard make little difference to all three as Heikes only broke 91, while Fanning scored 94 and Elliott 93.

INDEPENDENCE DIVIDEND PASSED

Yesterday was the day of the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Independence Town and Mining company at which the dividend is usually declared. Yesterday, however, there was no formal meeting held and it was agreed among the directors now present in the city that the dividend should be passed.

Owing to the impending litigation, which will mean a very great expense it seems perfectly reasonable that no more dividends should be declared until the litigation is out of the way; and such will in all likelihood be the policy of the directors.

The dividend has been paid monthly for the last four months, each one being at the rate of one cent per share on the total capitalization of 1,250,000 shares, amounting to $12,500. The dividend has been made payable on the first of the month and declared on the 15th of the month previous. The company has distributed in dividends $59,000.

The company is marshaling its forces in preparation for the big fight and the directors express every confidence of a victory. They make their stand on the ground that there were no known lode veins when the placer was located and a placer permits the locators to work the lode veins discovered subsequent to the issuance of the patent. In regard to the affidavits of those who claimed they perjured themselves when the patent was first applied for, the question is volunteered in something of a sarcastic tone, Who will believe a man when he says he is a liar?

BRIEF CITY ITEMS.

The city chain gang continues to grow smaller, owing to the tendency of its members to demonstrate their sprinting powers yesterday morning. A special officer took four men out to work upon the streets and when he returned at noon he was accompanied by only one of his prisoners. The three men who escaped were John McCloverd, James Nelson and Harry Nelson. They were tried and fined yesterday morning in police court and were taken out to work out their sentences.

A wholesale execution of canines took place yesterday afternoon at the city pound on South Weber street. A large number of the animals had been collected there as a result of not having had taxes paid on them. Chief Henry and Detective Atkinson officiated.

The Colorado Midland will run special excursions to Ute Pass points next Sunday. A low rate of 50 cents for the round trip has been made in order to give all a chance to visit these points of interest. A special feature of the day will be a baseball game, which is to be played at Woodland Park between [illegible] from this city.

The Hudson River Day Boat.

The Lake Shore Fast Mail No. 6, leaving Chicago daily at 8:30 a. m. with through buffet sleeper, is the only train from Chicago making direct connection with the Hudson River Day Line boats from Albany. The New England Express is the only twenty-six hour train between Chicago and Boston. Leaves Chicago every afternoon at two. The Lake Shore Limited is the only twenty-four hour train between Chicago and New York passing through the beautiful Mohawk valley and along the banks of the Hudson river by daylight. Summer tourist tickets are now on sale. B. P. Humphrey, T. P. A., Kansas City, Mo., F. M. Byron, G. W. A., Chicago.

JUNK DEALERS IN A FIGHT

In Justice Wing's court yesterday the case of the People vs. Louis Stein was heard. The defendant was bound over to the next term of the district court. His bond was placed at $400. According to the testimony the arrest was the result of a quarrel with a man by the name of Maybaum. Stein is a junk dealer and Maybaum was working for him. The two quarreled over money claimed to be due Maybaum as commission for buying old iron and bottles. Each is charged with having threatened to kill the other. Both were arrested. Stein was tried yesterday but Maybaum took a change of venue to Justice Ruby's court.

In Justice Ruby's court yesterday the following matters were considered:

The case of Giles vs. Huffman was continued until July 5th at 9 o'clock.

A suit entitled W. J. Jordan vs. J. B. Jenkins was filed. The plaintiff asks judgment for $12.65. The case was set for June 21.

A money demand suit entitled Dora Reed vs. Anna Hayden was filed and the papers were issued. The plaintiff asks judgment in the sum of $39.36.

Every Sunday to Denver and Return Via The Colorado & Southern Ry. Fare $2.00. Seven trains each way.

THE CHINESE SITUATION GROWS WORSE

THE enlargement in area and numbers of the Chinese uprising increases the probability of a war involving one or more European powers The Boxer revolt has already assumed such proportions that it seems almost impossible to deal with it with an international force of marines and the invasion of an army of any one nation only could hardly fail to arouse the opposition of some other nation

The gravity of the situation of recent events in the minds of the foreign secretaries of legation in China in connection with the well known hostility toward Russian officers of the Russian government [illegible] Reports that have been steadily in progress for some months past it forms a serious menace to the general peace [illegible] afford every opportunity for beginning it

In this connection it may be noted that the opinion among all diplomats familiar with the situation is that war is inevitable and that it cannot long be delayed. If the international expedition should reach Pekin safely which is by no means certain it could do little more than rescue the foreigners who are besieged there It has not the strength to maintain its position and still less to undertake to put down the tumult that is now raging over wide areas and breaking forth almost daily at places far distant from each other

THE SITUATION IN KENTUCKY

THE refusal of Goebelized Governor Taylor to be a candidate for re election in Kentucky seems to have cleared the political air in that state considerably and to have added noticeably to the chances of Republican success

The disturbances which attended the contest for the governorship last winter including the killing of the Democratic leader Goebel aroused a great deal of bitter feeling against Taylor and a great many Republicans joined in the criticism of his actions His renomination threatened to intensify the feeling against him and would have forced the campaign towards minor issues and

According to present indications the Republican candidate will be John W Yerkes of Danville who is considered a man of much better quality than Taylor and a much stronger candidate

On the other hand dissensions among the Democrats are already manifest and afford room for the hope that the majority in favor of the Republican candidates at the coming election will be so large that the legislature will not dare to nullify it as they did last year

THE ST. LOUIS STRIKE.

THAT strikes are sometimes justifiable few people will deny and more often than not the sympathies of the public are with the workingmen who are trying to improve their conditions of toil or to increase the compensation for their labor

But the strike at St Louis was not of this kind It was on the contrary due to bad politics and the efforts of ambitious leaders to get the better of each other without any regard to the interests of the public

The strike has already lasted more than a month Thirty people have been killed and injured by bullets and 90 in other ways The estimated loss of the strikers in wages is $227 000 the loss of business men nearly $1 000 000 A thousand regular police 600 special police and 1 000 special deputies have been employed at an estimated cost of $350 000

The stories of rioting published in the papers throughout the country have been probably somewhat exaggerated as they usually are but there is a sufficient basis of fact to warrant all the explosion of indignation that has [illegible]

Politics has been at the bottom of the trouble and neither party has been free from blame although the Democratic being in control of city and state governments must be most at fault As is [illegible] the strikers who have been chiefly responsible but the disorderly riotous element which has taken advantage of the weakness and inefficiency of the civil authorities to inaugurate a reign of terror and cause enormous loss to all business interests At the same time there is reason to believe that the disorder has been encouraged as a result of a stock jobbing effort to beat the company's securities in connection with a deal for the transfer of ownership

It is this latter fact which particularly emphasizes the truth of the statement previously made in these columns that the interests of the public are superior to those of either employer or employe The workingmen have no right to injure the business of thousands and the corporation managers have no right to remain in a position which they have demonstrated their inability to fill A strike is a failure a failure to perform the service for which the corporation was chartered by the state, and when the strike interferes with the public interests state interference becomes a necessity without anything further Upon notice that any transportation company is unable to perform its service to the public it ought to be possible for any one of its patrons to secure the appointment of a receiver who would operate the road under the protection of the military force of the state until peace is restored

SOME CONTESTED SEATS

THE Republican national committee is busy this week in advance of the meeting of the national convention in deciding the contests that are presented from various states for seats in the convention A list of the contests is as follows

State	Contests.	Seats involved
Alabama	7	16
Georgia	1	2
Louisiana	6	14
Mississippi	1	2
New York	1	2
Pennsylvania	1	1
Ohio	1	2
Tennessee	5	12
Texas	7	16
Delaware	2	6
District of Columbia	1	2

It will be noticed that the states where the entire delegation is involved are southern states and that a large number of the district contests are from the same section of the country The reason for this lies largely in the fact that in these states where there is no reasonable chance for Republican success under any circumstances the organization is maintained very largely as a means of dispensing the federal offices and the person who is recognized as the leader of the state delegation is entitled to a considerable amount of official patronage. In the Republican states this honor belongs to some senator or representative or is shared among the congressmen but in states which are overwhelmingly Democratic the only chance of honor or prominence is in the leadership of a delegation to the national convention, or in an election as a delegate from a district which never did and possibly never will choose a Republican to congress

The facts that the southern states which are honeycombed with rotten boroughs have no proportionate representation in the convention as the northern and Western ones which are depended on to elect the ticket has been a source of a great deal of controversy that has by no means died out In spite of the evident injustice of the arrangement there does not seem to be any way to correct it without at least an equal injustice and the present practice is likely to remain unchanged

So far as the contests are concerned it is fortunate that although they are more numerous than usual there is none of them which involves a serious quarrel or one that is likely in any way to interfere with the chances of Republican success next fall The national committee and the convention can be relied on to settle these matters with fairness and justice and the contestants will work together for the success of the ticket wherever possible

DR. ROGERS' RESIGNATION.

THE resignation of Dr Henry Wade Rogers president of the Northwestern university brings up again the interesting question of the extent to which the president of a university or a professor therein should be [illegible] the ages of the contributors to whom the institution looks for its support

The great important aspect is naturally the practical one No money no school, and if the contributors to the institutional funds declare that they will give no money so long as a certain person remains as president of holds a position in instruction in a certain branch that settles it irrespective of any consideration of intellectual integrity or the benefit of free thought

But leaving this aspect of the case aside the question is by no means a one sided one The responsibility for what a man believes rests with himself and intellectual honesty compels the individual to believe those things which commend themselves to his reason and conscience But when it comes to a matter of public instruction that is a different matter altogether The trustees of a Christian college would certainly be wrong in continuing in his position a teacher who conceived it to be a part of his intellectual integrity to promulgate atheism or Mohammedanism and the same principle holds true to a lesser degree in matters of minor importance

In the case of Dr Rogers his trouble was a violent outburst of anti imperialism which very greatly surprised the limits of good judgment If it did not actually reach the proportions of treason to the government A Chicago paper says

Dr Rogers was one of the most prominent figures in the now famous anti administration meeting held in Central Music hall April 30 1899 Gathered about the Northwestern university president was a galaxy of cranks eccentrics and sore heads of more or less prominence Dr Rogers was one of the principal speakers of the evening and the audience appeared to echo his sentiments in many ways The name of Aguinaldo was greeted with cheers as was the mention of anti expansion and anti imperialism When any of the speakers referred to the American soldiers in the Philippines or to President McKinley his utterances were greeted with hisses Following this meeting was a series of smaller ones and one or two gatherings in other cities in which Dr Rogers shone as the guiding star for the lesser lights among the anti administration and pro Aguinaldo forces In every instance his utterances were denunciatory of the president [illegible] of the United States and hankering of Aguinaldo These utterances were criticised in the press and in the pulpit

Such views may be sincerely and honestly held but the public expression of them surely unfits the man to be the head of an American university or the instructor of American youth

Liberty of thought for the individual should be without limits but the teaching of error and treason is something that all good men and patriots will do everything in their power to prevent Admitting that Dr Rogers has a moral right to state his opinions to whoever will listen to him other men have an equal right to remove him from a position which gives him an unusual opportunity and influence in teaching ideas which they believe to be untruthful and treasonable

Freedom of thought is to be guarded as a priceless possession but freedom of thought does not include the right to use other peoples money or to retain public or semi public positions in order to promote individual opinions [illegible] opposed to the general sentiment Even if Dr Rogers was right the trustees believing as they did might compel his resignation and all the more so be [illegible] he was certainly and seriously wrong

A Nebraska lady [illegible] out of $13 000 [illegible] If he had been [illegible] enough to subscribe for the Gazette he would have invested his money in listed mining stocks and have drawn handsome dividends on the investment

THE DEMOCRATIC QUARREL

The Thomas Maloney fight for supremacy in Arapahoe county is the chief attraction just now in the Democratic circus If there ever was a time when each faction was attempting to steal the entire outfit it is now The more they fight the better But neither chief of these factions is fitted for any chief position Each one is running after the senatorial plum [illegible] as governor His name is never thought of in connection with a renomination He could not carry a precinct in his own county He can never be United States senator Charlie ought to know that Charlie is demonstrating very clearly the assertion of Phonolyte who says Thomas has less political sense than any man in the state of Colorado —(Ward Miner

The Democratic state convention assisted the bitter feud in Arapahoe county by refusing to decide which was right and which was wrong as between Governor Thomas and Tom Maloney By seating both delegations the convention satisfied neither faction and displayed a lack of backbone that must cause the public to look upon the proceedings as cowardly (Victor Record

The Maloney faction was pretty cute after all It found itself beaten before the central committee of the Democratic state convention and a counting of noses proved it would be defeated when a vote was taken in the body of the convention Consequently it hatched up a scheme to have both delegations ousted and this was carried through before the Thomas men realized what was in the wind It was rule or ruin with the Maloney crowd They could not eat the hay and they would not have the Thomas race horses and plugs mostly plugs—have any of the fodder Arapahoe county was consequently not represented in the Democratic convention held in Denver this week —(Boulder Herald

One faction claiming a two to one vote of the state convention the other a majority of not less than sixty three to seat its delegates from Arapahoe county is the way the Democrats are harmonizing in that county The fight between Governor Thomas and Charles Maloney is a bitter one (Lon Morgan Times

The Republicans watched the contest in the Democratic state convention with a great deal of interest In it they fondly imagined that the Democratic hosts throughout the state would be dragged into an internal fight that would make it possible for them to win the state this fall In this they are doomed to disappointment When the state convention meets this fall there will be no division All who are entitled to the un American administration of President McKinley will unite and Colorado will present a larger majority for Bryan than even that of four years ago —(Trinidad Advertiser

Maloney and Thomas may fight and one may win the other But the Democratic Democracy is for Bryan and are not much interested in the fight between these two gentlemen [illegible] stands for Democracy I would like to know who is the champion of liberty and right and fair play What Thomas would do for the cause of silver or how Maloney would fix the trusts imperialism is not known But that Bryan will do and say is plain and he is the Colorado Democracy —(Aspen Tribune

The turning down of both the delegations from Arapahoe county by the Democratic state convention does not mend matters it will not satisfy either side There must be a right and a wrong side and for the right side to be turned down will not set well The result may be satisfactory to the Thomas bolters as it is a partial recognition of the claims set up by the office officials of Denver who represent the Thomas side —(Durango Herald

Governor Thomas helped to redeem the state from Populist rule but when he undertakes to redeem Arapahoe county from Maloney rule he can't quite cut it —(Lake City Phonograph

Let the Democratic party take fair warning The Silver Republicans and Populists are not going to allow their organizations this year and perhaps never and while they will undoubtedly support Bryan electors it does not follow that they will allow themselves to be absorbed by the Democracy If all the silver forces are not given a fair show on the state ticket this fall the name of the party that [illegible] There is a wide difference between state and national issues and it will be well for the Democracy to bear this [illegible]

A limited few of the Democratic papers throughout the state are already howling for a straight Democratic ticket This is the old White Wing yelp that will fall of any noticeable effect The silver voters (Colorado are not on a fusion next fall and are going to get it (Grand Valley Sun

RESOURCES AND PROGRESS

[illegible] the hot summer months to go to the mountains Nothing can surpass the conditions found there for recuperation of body and mind Strength will be regained and the dread ailments which so often visit this valley during the heat of the year will be avoided With all the conditions in favor of health it should certainly be well for all health seekers to spend a few weeks and a few dollars enjoying those privileges which thousands travel across one or two continents and spend many dollars [illegible] The rest will do you good—the change will do good and the grandeur of the scenery will do you good Why not go (Rawlins News

It is assured that the telephone line will be completed to Meeker at the close of the present month A large force of men under charge of Fred Rockwell begins work at Rifle next Monday and they expect to have the work in fifteen days Fred will have his hands and his wagon and will [illegible] night overtaken them [illegible] no time will be lost —(Meeker Herald

Recent Discoveries in La Plata.

During the past two or three years there has been a good deal of prospecting going on in the La Plata district [illegible] the new discoveries Some of the new fields perhaps are more interesting or important than the developments made in the properties of Scouten Van Deventer and Hopkins on the south slope of Deadwood mountain, the long ridge or right arm extending from Silver mountains great incline rock and coursing south between Deadwood gulch and the La Plata river

This property is near to the old town of Parrott, in the extreme southern portion of the La Plata group of mountains This locality possesses some special conditions in geology and vein structure peculiarly its own and the striking fact is that good values are found in nearly all of the veins here In the Scouten et al property a series of veins [illegible] in the vein have been encountered recently and their walls of crystalline quartz carry quite large values in gold and silver The gangue or vein filling appears at a glance to be a blend of [illegible] with the original sandstrata more or less decomposed

The conditions on general lines here with reference to caves or vein partings are like those in the old Comstock and Saxon leads which have produced considerable quantities of good ore

While it is not a fact of general knowledge it is a fact which must appear to even the ordinary observer that the south portion of the district is less disturbed by eruptive forces than any other portion and this fact does not militate against the quantities of minerals or their values there before there was any volcanic action to help or injure —(Durango Herald

C H McVey finished work on the new artesian well for the Santa Fe west of the blacksmith shop, and [illegible] it over to the company Thursday The well is 581 feet deep water coming to within 50 feet of the top Mr McVey says he expects the well to pump 100 gallons to the minute He will commence work immediately on another artesian well just east of the roundhouse When this one is completed a third well is to be sunk in the vicinity of the race track This looks like more shops more men more business more prosperity for La Junta —(La Junta Tribune

ON M'KINLEY'S SIDE

The Democratic party cannot extract much comfort from the Oregon election which occurred on Monday The Republicans carried everything in sight from justice of the peace to supreme judge Considering the fact that the Democrats Populists and Silver Republicans loyally supported a fusion ticket, the single handed victory of the Republicans is significant This is one of the sure states that the Rocky News was going to elect a "silver" United States senator from —(Breckenridge Journal

The work of taking the census is being pushed rapidly and by the end of the month the work will be done but results will not be known for two months later at least There has been a great increase of population in this state and it is estimated that the returns should show a population of upwards of 700 000 in the state If it should reach the figure Colorado will be entitled to one if not two additional congressmen This would be encouraging [illegible] fusion office seekers if they did not realize that their days for office holding were numbered They have no [illegible] they are whistling to keep their spirits up until November Hope of new offices two years hence only tends to make their hearts sick —(Greeley Sun

WOLCOTT FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

There is much speculation current in every quarter respecting the vice presidency of both political parties It would seem and is looking squarely at the situation, that Senator Wolcott whose name has recently been mentioned as a possibility is the logical candidate of the Republican party Few men stand higher in the ranks of the party than does Mr Wolcott besides the great west is fast becoming a factor in making and unmaking presidential candidates, and should receive some recognition on the national ticket As the nomination of President McKinley has long since been conceded there is no material element of doubt about his receiving a handsome majority of the [illegible] states the middle Atlantic and central states Ohio Mr McKinley's own state has for some time been regarded as one of the pivotal states upon which may turn the fortunes of a political party but the Buckeye states is almost certain to be carried by the Republicans This being true why not perfect the situation by looking towards Colorado for vice president in the heart of the western and Rocky mountain country where in 96 Mr Bryan received nearly all the electoral votes Mr Wolcott would add strength to the ticket in the west and would be very acceptable in the east where his name has been frequently mentioned as McKinley's possible running mate —(Morrison Graphic

Senator Wolcott may yet very much against his inclination be chosen to accept the second place on the ticket with President McKinley As a senator he has won a brilliant reputation and is conceded to be the most eloquent and forceful orator in the upper house of congress His courageous course in adhering to the principles of the Republican party when he knew that four fifths of the voters of his state were against him is a point urged forward to show the metal of the man —(Ward Miner

THE BIRTH OF "PIKE'S PEAK, JR."

Geologists have wondered for a good many years where Pike's Peak came from.

Most geologists think they know.

But on "Pike's Peak, Jr." the geologists have another thing coming.

Pike's Peak, Jr." was born yesterday noon in a Wells Fargo express car in the Santa Fe yards in Colorado Springs. He is not a mountain, though he is about the same shape as a good many and can make, when he gets biggest, a whole lot more noise than any mountain around Colorado.

Pike's Peak, Jr., is a baby sea-lion.

For Gay Coney Island.

Paul Boynton, the famous swimmer, inventor and all around expert at anything that concerns aquatic achievements, has an aquarium at Gay Coney Island. He needs some sea-lions to make it complete so he recently sent an order to California, where the sea-lions grow, to have a consignment sent to him. Three magnificent specimens of this strange institution with a head like the head of a musk-rat, a body like the body of a sea-lion and nothing else, and with the ears of a dog and great strong fins that resemble the wings of a great bird minus the feathers, three magnificent specimens were secured at Pacific Grove, near San Francisco, and were shipped by Wells Fargo to Paul Boynton at New York.

Discovery of "Pike's Peak, Jr."

It was while the shadows west of Pike's Peak were being shortened by climbing of the sun of a day that the three sea-lions, on their eastern journey, climbed around the rocky slopes of America's most famous mountain and down through Ute Pass into Colorado Springs. Here there came a pause in the journey. Twelve hours would intervene between the arrival of the car on the Midland and the departure on the Santa Fe.

H. P. Gardner, the depot agent of the Wells Fargo people, greeted his guests with a happy smile and immediately won favor in their sight by spending half an hour drenching them with a garden hose. This performance he repeated hourly all day. There being no live sea fish available, the visitors did not eat during the day. Mr. Gardner did, however, and when he returned after the noon hour and went in the car to water them again, he stood and looked at the cages for a long time.

There were three crates.

There were three sea-lions billed in the bill of lading.

But there were four sea-lions.

One was very diminutive, but in other respects just like the rest and not a whit less lively.

"He wasn't billed to come," said Gardner, "but he came."

Just then the little fellow stood upon his lex-like wing-like fins and poking his head out toward the snow-capped summit west of town, let out a long vigorous yell or roar. The small boy who hear him said he "hollered," and that's just about what he did.

This was the discovery of "Pike's Peak, Junior."

He is the first sea-lion ever born on the slope of Pike's Peak.

He is the first sea-lion ever born a mile above sea-level.

Perhaps he is a sea-[illegible]

No matter.

Once Auditor's Clerk; Now Big Four's G. P. A.

Colorado Springs is entertaining at the present time one of those remarkable men whose success stands for so much in America. He is one of the men who have risen by merit from a subordinate position to one of importance in the great world of commerce.

Twenty years ago he was a clerk in a railway auditor's office and now he is P. B. Buchanan, general freight agent of the Big Four road, with headquarters in Cincinnati.

What is more interesting even than this to Colorado Springs people is that twenty years ago he was an auditor's clerk in the general offices of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, then in Colorado Springs.

Tried to Beg Off.

Like the newspaper boys, said Mr. Buchanan to a Gazette man yesterday, "I hope you will let me off easy." And the best part of it all was that Mr. Buchanan meant what he said. Some men, as soon as they get to town, "phone for a "reporter," and then after telling too much sought individually on that they could find a few things that their brothers did or would have done if they had died, conclude by stating that they don't want any "newspaper notoriety."

Mr. Buchanan is in his private car, one of those bright yellow coaches which make a feeling of homeliness steal over the man who has lived near the "Big Four" or the "Lake Shore" or the "Illinois Central" or the "Milwaukee," and although he has been in Colorado Springs ever since Wednesday morning he is just discovered. He is a comparatively young man, but a man of thoroughly pleasing mien, just the kind of man whom everyone likes to meet. He wears a negligee shirt and a leather belt, and isn't afraid to go out of his car with his coat off.

The City Has Grown.

"I think the mountains of this section are very much more [illegible] than they were when I first saw them before. I left here twenty years ago and have not been back since that time except for a brief visit in 1891, but as I remember the mountains they are unusually stern and beautiful now.

"The growth of the city of Colorado Springs is truly wonderful. I have visited a good many cities and have noted great progress in many of them but it is not so marked in any as in Colorado Springs.

"I have noticed the big railroad grade along the front of the mountains. That railroad, together with the heavy interest which Colorado Springs men hold in the mines of Cripple Creek, will do marvelous good for the city. It is a delightful place to come and I am greatly pleased to see everything prosperous as it seems to be."

Mr. Buchanan came direct to Colorado Springs from Cincinnati and after remaining until Sunday will return to the Ohio metropolis and to the "Big Four."

Stock Census Shows The Effect of Drouth

Dr. Charles Greswell, special live stock agent for thirty-three counties of Colorado, left over the Rio Grande yesterday to pursue his duties at some of the smaller places between here and Denver. He has practically completed the work assigned to him in El Paso county. [illegible] and this county with less than its fair proportion of live stock on range. The fact is well accounted for by the dry season on the plains last year. The heavy precipitation this spring has put range in much better condition than expected to find it, and has a tendency to draw stockmen back into the county to see what range there is lies close to the mountains and gives good effect from the legislature. Another such season as we have just had and El Paso county will come to the front with an enormous increase in live stock valuation. When the range is good it is as fine as any public range in the state. Pit ventures there are not more than 15,000 head of cattle and 20,000 head of sheep in El Paso county at present.

Speaking of valuation, Dr. Greswell comments on the indifference in the reception given Government census agents and assessors this way:

"When we approach the owner of a herd [illegible] and directs all his efforts toward ascertaining if we are in league with the assessors. Sometimes it is difficult to convince him to the contrary, but this obstacle out of the way, we fare pretty well. Stockmen may feel assured that this census taking is not to be used in no way as information for assessors. It is strictly a government enterprise for the benefit of stockmen and the federal authorities.

"I want to say one thing for El Paso county stockmen, and that is that I have not yet nor do I expect to receive such cordial treatment from any other section. They were all quick to satisfy themselves of the benefits of the census and assisted in every way possible to facilitate my duties."

HEAVY LOSS BY A COLLEGE STUDENT

Mr. Burdette Herr, one of the best known members of the Colorado college student body, known to fame [illegible] by reason of his active and efficient participation in both football and baseball, yesterday morning suffered a severe loss.

He was coming south on Tejon street, between 7:30 and 8:00 o'clock in the morning on a wheel when at some point between Dale and Huerfano streets two $20 bills dropped from his pocket and he has as yet been unable to locate them.

Mr. Herr is employed by Hastings Bros. at 109 South Tejon street. He will liberally reward the finder of the $40, if the latter will return the money.

Commencing tomorrow the Colorado & Southern will inaugurate through sleeping car service between San Antonio, Texas, and this city and between Galveston and this city. This has been done in anticipation of the heavy travel from southern points to this city during the next few weeks.

The building inspector granted a permit yesterday to G. M. Brewer, who expects to erect a neat three-room addition to his home on Washington avenue. The cost will be about $500.

Buttonhole Interviews

Mr. J. Arthur Connell, who has just called home by the death of his partner, W. P. Wight, says of England:

"Cripple Creek has not yet interested to any great extent the really wealthy men of England. They have unlimited prosperity at home and it has been brought about by good safe investments with which they are familiar. It is not strange that they should be a little slow in reaching out for something new and thousands of miles away when they can do as well right at home.

"The people of England who are buying Cripple Creek stocks up to the present, like the people of America to a great extent, are people who spend money, but not the fabulously rich."

Mr. Connell will probably rejoin his family in England next month.

"On account of the storms of a day or two ago we found it impossible to drive through the southern end of the county, as we expected to," said County Commissioner Doran yesterday. "We did drive east, however, to attend to some matters in the district where there is not so much adobe as there is down toward the Pueblo county line.

"They had a great big storm last night down in Dead Man's canon, according to the story that the people tell."

Architect Sterner of the firm of Varian & Sterner, contractors on the Antlers, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

"No," said Mr. Sterner, "the work on the Antlers is not going as fast as some people think it should but it is going as fast as it can and it will continue to do so until the building is completed.

"People in general seem to like it so far as it has gone and we shall do everything in our power to keep it progressing at the most rapid possible rate."

"It is a big task," said Manager S. N. Nye, "to tear out the inside of a playhouse and remodel it. We are progressing rapidly, however, with the work in the opera house and will have it done when it is needed. The view of the stage is going to be good from all parts of the house and the capacity of the house will be increased materially.

"The chairs for the parquet have been ordered, and they are the finest chair that Andrews makes, and I guess he makes as good as anybody."

George W. Davlese, of Pierpont, S. C., now at the Alamo, visits Colorado frequently because of mining interests here and takes uncommon interest in the administration of state affairs.

"The state has, I believe, a total valuation of $208,000,000, or something very close to that figure," he said, "and every man who comes here from other states with business interests, sees at once that there is something wanting in the legislative branch of the government. Why, that valuation ought to be three to four times as large, and the state will always be in financial distress until the wrong is righted. The return of property as assessed in Colorado is more disproportionate to values than in any other state in the union."

Said a citizen yesterday: "Manitou is more beautiful now than it will be again during the summer. The locusts are in bloom now and I never have seen anything like it. The trees are actually breaking down under the mass of bloom and the street cars run along through a perfect garden. A peculiarity of the locusts there is that the blossoms have a dark plum [illegible] been used to white locusts and I do not see how [illegible] Manitou has something to do with the color. Just tell your readers that if they want to see something pretty in the next few days to visit Manitou."

"It takes a good deal to make up a big hotel or any other building," said one of the Antlers contractors at the Alta Vista last night.

He had been figuring intently on a piece of cardboard and produced the following:

"Carloads of sand and mortar in the brick, 700; number of brick in building, 7,000,000; weight of walls, 49,000,000 pounds; weight of floors, fire-proofing, iron and tile roof, etc. (estimated), 49,000,000; total weight of building, 98,000,000 pounds. The floor space will aggregate 245,000 square feet. The wall space is to be 145,000 cubic feet."

Upon arriving in England he was shocked to learn by cable of the serious illness and death of the head of Mr. Wight and immediately returned to attend to his business affairs.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Evander McNair arrived home yesterday morning after a three months visit with Mrs. McNair's father in Danville, Ky. They also visited Washington, D. C., just before returning. Dr. McNair is a graduate of the '55 class of Center college and it was a pleasant privilege to meet his many friends as well as to preach to them, he having supplied the Second Presbyterian church during his stay in Danville.

CEMETERY AID SOCIETY WILL MEET TUESDAY

The ladies of Colorado Springs, who have decided to organize a Cemetery Aid society, will hold another meeting at the home of Mrs. James W. Atkinson, on Tuesday afternoon next at 3:00 p. m. Mrs. Atkinson lives at 930 East Dale street.

Despite the very unfavorable weather which prevailed at the time there were a large number of ladies present at the last meeting. At that time a committee was instructed to draw up a constitution and by-laws and these will be submitted for ratification or modification at Tuesday's meeting.

ANNUAL MEETING OF COLLEGE MUSIC CLUBS

In Coburn Library yesterday morning occurred the annual meeting of the Colorado college glee and mandolin clubs.

The meeting was attended by practically all the members of the clubs who are still in the city and the business of the day was accomplished.

The officers elected were as follows:

George W. Crampton, director of both clubs; A. J. Lyman, leader of Mandoline club; S. G. Hamlin, manager of both clubs; H. LeRoy Shantz, president of both clubs; H. L. Ross, secretary-treasurer of both clubs.

The resignation of Mr. C. W. Bowers was tendered because of the lack of time on his part to carry on the work next year. Mr. Bowers has trained the clubs from the start and through three season has made the college glee club the equal of any in the entire west.

The re-election of Mr. Hamlin as manager is the club's expression of opinion of his work in that capacity. Mr. Hamlin has devoted much time and effort to the clubs and has contributed largely to their success.

HAS DONE OTHERS; MUST NOW DO TIME

Charles Howard, who was arrested several weeks ago on a charge of gambling, and was afterwards tried in police court and fined $25 and costs, was re-arrested yesterday by order of Judge Owen. When Howard was found guilty he gave notice that he would take an appeal to the district court, however, in his attempt to have his case heard in the county court, and was ordered to abide by the sentence passed upon him. He made a solemn vow that if he was not required to serve out his sentence in jail he would pay the fine as soon as he could get the money. Judge Owen offered to be lenient with him and he was allowed to stand upon his promise. Howard's promises did not materialize, however, not even after he had been reminded several times of them. He renewed them but thy did not pay the fine and Judge Owen ordered him arrested and confined in jail.

COUNTY SUES ON ROHDE'S BOND

Will Endeavor to Collect Through the Courts That Salary Item.

CONTEST CASE RECALLED

Item Involved Is Six Months' Salary of the County Treasurer. The Antlers Fire Litigation. Other Court News.

An action was filed yesterday in the district court which recalls the Steinmetz-Rohde election contest case which occupied a month of the year 1898 in the local courts and the court of appeals.

The county commissioners have brought suit against W. E. Rohde and the Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland to recover the sum of $1,750.

The complaint recites the fact that prior to the election of Mr. Rohde the office of treasurer of El Paso county was held by Mr. F. J. Steinmetz, and that after January 1st, 1898, when Mr. Steinmetz contested the election of Mr. Rohde, the former refused to give up the office and held it until the courts on August 1st declared Mr. Rohde entitled to the office. Mr. Steinmetz had drawn salary for the part of the term which he served and the county commissioners approved and allowed the same. When Mr. Rohde assumed the office he drew and appropriated to his own use $1,750, the amount of salary that had been drawn by Mr. Steinmetz during the contest. The board declined to approve or allow this claim on the part of Mr. Rohde.

Mr. Rohde filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, secured by the Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland.

The county commissioners now sue Rohde and the Maryland company for $1,750 and costs of suit.

In the district court yesterday a suit entitled James W. Hart vs. Don C. Goddard, as sheriff, etc., was filed. The plaintiff seeks an injunction to restrain the defendant from selling under execution certain property alleged to belong to plaintiff which has been seized by the defendant for debts which the complaint alleges are the debts of Charles W. and Mary Hart.

In Division No. 1 of the district court yesterday the motion for new trial in the suit of Lewis vs. Strong was argued and taken under advisement.

In Division 2 of the district court yesterday the case of Crissey Lumber Co. et al. vs. Rio Grande road, continued to draw quite a crowd. The court excluded all testimony by witnesses except that bearing directly upon the origin and the cause of the big fire of October 1st, 1898. When the testimony on this point, is all in the jury will probably be taken out and a motion for non-suit will be argued. If this is denied the trial of the case will be resumed and its conclusion will probably be delayed for some time.

In the case of M. L. Reed vs. L. E. Sherman a motion for new trial was denied yesterday and judgment ordered on the verdict, which was for the plaintiff in the sum of $458.18. An appeal will be taken.

DANCERS WILL HOLD SWAY AT CASINO

This evening the regular dance at the Casino will be largely attended. Saturday evening seems to be quite popular this season, although Tuesday is also a popular night. This afternoon the children will dance and have their regular outing. Last Saturday quite a good many young folks were out and danced under the direction of Miss Barnes. The managers do not charge the children anything for admission, but the full orchestra plays for them just the same as for the adults. Mr. McMahon, the dancing teacher closed an arrangement yesterday with the Casino managers by which he will give the closing dance of his season at Broadmoor. He will issue invitations to his pupils although the dance will be open to the public.

BARNARD CREEK CLAIMS

Syndicate Is Endeavoring to Secure Possession of the Territory--Shipments and Dividends.

Special to the Gazette:

Cripple Creek, June 15.—A large number of miners and prospectors who located lode claims years ago on the territory adjacent to Barnard creek are wrought up over an alleged attempt to steal their locations by a Cripple Creek syndicate under guise of placer locations. This syndicate it is asserted has already filed application for patent with the United States land office at Pueblo on 1 600 acres of ground. Practically all of this acreage has been located for years as lode claims. The locators for the most part are working miners who work in the different properties of the camp and return to their location only for the purpose of working their annual assessments. One miner whose claim has been taken in by this placer scheme has sunk a shaft to a depth of 50 feet where he has a well defined vein of mineral in place. This is only one instance, there are many others of a similar character. Few of these locators have money enough to defend their titles in the land office, but it is understood that a St. Louis syndicate interested in this section has lodged a protest and will make a hard fight so far as its land is concerned.

The Lucknow lease on the Gold King of the Progress company shipped 13 tons of ore today estimated to be worth from three to four ounces to the ton. This lease is now in shape for regular production.

The Atlanta Mines corporation operating the Santa Rita mine on Squaw mountain closed a 30 ton shipment today of medium grade ore which will run from three to five ounces to the ton.

The directors of the Gold Coin Mining company declared their regular monthly dividend today at 2 cents a share, amounting to $20 000. A 1 cent dividend was also declared by the directors of the Consolidated Mines company amounting to $10 000. Both these dividends will be distributed on the regularly established date.

The Hustler G. M. Co has let a contract for 100 feet of sinking on the Giant claim situated on the northeast slope of Gold mountain. The shaft will be sunk on a big dike from which values have been obtained in surface workings of from $2 60 to $48 a ton. This company is organized and has a capitalization of 1 000 000 shares of a par value of one cent per share.

THE WILSON CREEK SIDE

An Interesting and Concise Statement of the Contentions and Allegations of the Independence T. & M. Company's Opponents.

The controversy between the Independence Town and Mining and Wilson Creek companies has been holding the attention of a very large number of people interested in mining for a long time past. Stockholders in both companies are anxious the layman are highly interested while the battle goes on and the general public watches the proceedings with unfeigned curiosity.

The developments of the past few days have brought a revival and greater rise in this anxiety interest and activity. In the fluctuations of the tide which has so long been against the Wilson Creek company seems to have turned temporarily at least in its favor. The result has been well reflected on the street where violent fluctuations in both stocks have been recorded.

Everybody is willing to talk about the matter to hand out opinions of sage advice but very few seem to know where they are at and both factions entertain a very confident smile. One man who certainly did not know what he was talking about said yesterday: "There is one thing you ought to warn the public against and that is the possible danger of paying too much for Wilson Creek stock. You must remember that the litigation started before the present tariff was started the Wilson Creek was in debt and that it was paid off by those who knew and have been fighting for it. Just putting up the heavy costs incurred in continuing the fight against the Independence Town and Mining company. It is reasonable to suppose that these gentlemen are counted against those expenses through the court and yet stand that they will effect the result should they eventually win their case and be able to do so. Then again it was left to the Wilson Creek companies that not all the forty acres that is being contested for and that in the event of a favorable decision will have to be computed and accounted for outside of the direct holdings of the Wilson Creek company. The public does not seem to understand this question and is inclined to think that the stock appreciates in value at the same ratio that Independence Town and Mining declines so I think you ought to make some explanation of the case."

The Gazette reprints a very interesting but concise and lucid article which appeared in the Denver Post and which explains in brief many of the contentions and allegations of the Wilson Creek company. It reads as follows:

The attorney general of the United States will shortly file in the United States circuit court for the district of Colorado a suit that will not only be sensational in its nature but will affect the ownership of an entire town and city of the highest rank in the state. Suit will be brought to set aside and cancel the patent to the famous Hull City placers.

This is one parallel case in the brilliant annals of Colorado mining litigation. If the allegations of the plaintiffs who are seeking to recover the effects are true the patent was secured by the grossest fraud and it has been held despite years of striving in the courts through a mysterious influence in the Cripple Creek district to Washington.

With the ruling of the secretary of the interior in the case of the Wilson Creek Consolidated Mining and Milling company against the Independence Town and Mining company to the effect that a suit shall be instituted in the name of the United States for cancellation of patents is not T. S. Montgomery and others of the Hull City placers claims the final and what promises to be the most sensational of all the battles ever waged in Cripple Creek. Attorney Hull Tompkins and the others named in the bill will accompany the filing under indictments returned by the last United States grand jury charging them with perjury in making false affidavits and assertions before the United States land office at Pueblo in the receipt of the news from Washington they were confident while the stock of the Wilson Creek advanced from 35 to 45 cents while the rival Wilson Creek advanced from 10 cents in proportion. But these are mere incidental to the great struggle.

A property valued at $5 000 000 spot cash is involved. In four years although considerably hindered by litigation it has produced $1 000 000. Save only the Jack Pot the Hull placers has [illegible] of the mine of the same character in the district. The town of Independence is covered by the town of Independence a collection of shacks and houses of a period above the other and the residents utilize mining claims for fuel purposes and have a wholesome dread of a [illegible] of shafts. Nobody but the agents of the Wilson Creek Consolidated Mining and Milling company is against the Independence Town and Mining company. W. S. Montgomery, James J. Smith, J. F. Stebbins, John Tompkins, Augustus Hull, C. C. Hathaway and A. B. Craigue.

Augustus Hull, George C. Wallace, F. F. Wade and Harry Stewart on September 6, 1891, entered upon the mineral [illegible] of the Cripple Creek district and discovered [illegible] and found the requirements of law and filed on certificates for the Little Hull, Little Giant and the Little Dorothy. Of these locators the Wilson Creek company purchased the claims and they have complied with the law relating to the performance of the annual assessment work on the claims since the location.

In January 1892 Hull it is alleged with J. F. Stebbins, John Tompkins, W. H. Craigue and W. S. Montgomery made a report to the union of the Hull City placer and included within its boundaries a very large portion of the lode claims belonging to the Wilson Creek company. Craigue filed an application for patent for the Hull City placer and April 4 1894 the certificate of entry therefor was issued to W. S. Montgomery, J. Tompkins, J. F. Smith, Hull, C. C. Hathaway, J. L. Stebbins and A. D. Craigue. February 21 1898 in pursuance of the application a patent was issued by the government conveying to them the Hull City placer.

Shortly after this the Wilson Creek company petitioned Attorney General Griggs to direct a suit in equity in behalf of the United States in the federal court to have the patent cancelled and set aside as it was obtained by fraud. The attorney general denied the petition whereupon an amended petition was presented and it is upon this action has now been taken.

The amended petition backed up by numerous affidavits contains charges of the liveliest interest. Before the patent was ever issued it was contested before the land office at Pueblo and it is there the allegations say the first duty work of Jesse Stevenson in the hearing of the protest at Pueblo. Binger Hermann, commissioner of the general land office ordered John R. Brackenbrough a special agent of the general land office to make a thorough investigation of the charges and report. The commissioner in strong language denounced the Pueblo proceedings and [illegible] appealed to the secretary of the interior Cornelius N. Bliss who finally ignored it.

Special Agent Brackenbrough reported that the officers of the Independence Town and Mining company had procured Augustus Hull and John Tompkins to give false and perjured testimony at the Pueblo hearing and had them a large sum of money. Among the affidavits taken before the special agent was that of G. K. Hartstein who testified that subsequently [illegible] the hearing Hull and Tompkins had told him that they had sold out to the Independence company. Tompkins said he had received a million dollars with W. S. Montgomery which he agreed to give to Hull for the improvement on the placers taken amounting to $5 000. For this Montgomery had agreed to pay Tompkins and Hull the sum of $1 000. Hull stated to Hartstein swore that he had letters in his possession that would corroborate the statements made to Tompkins. Owen Davies of Cripple Creek also made an affidavit to the effect that on November 1 1897 Tompkins told him the same thing and added that he had been employed by Montgomery to procure Hull for the sum of $5 000 to testify falsely which he did. Davies was shown the contract and read it recognizing the signature of W. S. Montgomery president of the Independence company.

Another affidavit was from James Meehan [illegible] at the time and overheard the conversation in regard to the [illegible] contract. Mr. Meehan swore that Hull and Tompkins say Montgomery had paid him to go to Black Hawk before the trial, or hearing at Pueblo and to make arrangements with Hull to testify at the trial.

A. H. Wade also testified that Hull told him he had the Montgomery contract and would sell it for $5 000.

Augustus Hull as is his full name also furnished the Wilson Creek company with an affidavit which contained [illegible] Hull testified Tompkins [illegible] Montgomery would [illegible] Cripple Creek $1 000 shares of the company and pay the company's work. This was done and Montgomery wrote a letter to Hull at Black Hawk instructing a check [illegible] Cripple Creek a few days before the hearing to go over the testimony he was to give. Other affidavits were to the effect that Steven Hick a witness for the placer claimants received $10 in [illegible] and was told Montgomery had offered him nearly a month before the Pueblo land office announcement that the decision would be in favor of the Independence company that James Meehan was employed by Montgomery to tamper with and bribe the witnesses of the protestants that one John [illegible] appear and testify.

To quote from the petition to the attorney general of the United States: "It is said and this likewise discloses that undue influence was used by the [illegible] officials of the land office in connection with the said hearing and particularly as disclosed by the affidavit of James Meehan who was a witness for the [illegible] that on the train going to Pueblo to attend said hearing the said Montgomery stated to affiant that they would stop at the Grand hotel at Pueblo because the register of the land office stopped there and it will cost a great figure and said affiant identified that while the hearing was in progress at Pueblo Isaac Tompkins affiant's roommate said to affiant that affiant missed it because he was not out with the gang. Affiant asked him who was out and he said the register of the United States land office and W. S. Montgomery, J. F. Smith and some of the other witnesses besides himself. It is also disclosed by the said affiant that the said Montgomery through some influence was enabled to learn of the decision of the local land office at Pueblo of said contents long before said decision was finally promulgated.

The petition further stated that not one dollar was expended by the Independence company for placer mining but all operations had been in lode mining and concluded with an excerpt from the special agent's report. In conducting this investigation it has been my constant endeavor to exercise an impartial and unbiased judgment in examining the witnesses I have also taken particular pains to have them exercise the utmost freedom and candor in making their statements and I have tried, to the best of my ability, to discover the whole truth. As a result I desire to say in conclusion that this appears to be one of the most flagrant cases of fraud upon the government and perjury I have ever been called upon to investigate."

The forty acres on the Wilson Creek company's land it has been proved to the secretary of the interior never were of placer character. After Hull disposed of the lode claims to the Wilson Creek company he became dissatisfied at the way the work was being carried on and seizing his opportunity, with his friends jumped on the richest portion of the ground taking it up under the placer. It was placer ground and [illegible] grade ore was opened up on the placer ground effectually disproving the claim that it was only valuable for placer purposes. The secretary's decision is that the patent was fraudulently procured in violation of the mining laws and it has been proven the requisite expenditure of labor and improvements was not made.

A prominent United States senator is charged openly with the manipulation in Washington by which both the attorney general and the preceding secretary of the interior turned down the land grants in favor of the Independence company stock and it was only necessary to telegraph him when affairs assumed a doubtful issue.

Attorney Montgomery is with one exception the largest stockholder in the Wilson Creek company. He has had a great deal to do with shaping the course of the litigation and this is his comment on the situation as far as it has developed.

The showing Mr. Montgomery is so strong that the government could no longer refrain from investigating. We have made [illegible] the act of any official. Secretary Bliss was [illegible] the presentation of false records of the [illegible] agreement with William Secretary Hitchcock understood the situation he did not hesitate.

Suit will at once be brought by the government in the United States circuit court for the district of Colorado for the purpose of setting aside the patent which the Independence Town and Mining company held for the Hull City placer.

Since the celebrated case had its beginning there have been many changes in the membership of both corporations. Wilson Creek affairs are today in much better hands than they were at the beginning. A positive statement cannot be made regarding the Independence company because no one except the officers knows exactly who are the heaviest stockholders. W. S. Montgomery of Colorado Springs is still at the head of the [illegible] but there have been many reports to the effect that his holdings are not as large as they were a few months ago. William A. Otis the Colorado Springs operator has taken up his place on the Independence directorate and in association with Cleveland O. Cutshall is has acquired a considerable interest in the Wilson Creek company. W. K. Gillett and A. [illegible] Carlton of the Midland Terminal railroad are both out of the Independence in which at one time they had extensive interests.

The Wilson Creek company was organized [illegible] Vista and until about two years ago most of the stock was still held by residents of that [illegible]. Now with the growing importance of the properties to which the company [illegible] has gone into stronger hands. The Otis holdings represent the backing of Standard Oil company millions. John Smith is the heaviest stockholder in the company. Within the Cripple Creek districts which have been reached by David H. Moffat, Millions of dollars are behind the Wilson Creek holdings of Libby T. Millikan of St. Louis and William B. Millikan of Cripple Creek, who control the Arequa mill, the new Union Gold extraction plant at Florence and numerous important mining and reduction interests in Cripple Creek and elsewhere in the west. Other heavy holders are J. Maurice Finn, who owns 100 000 shares, the Delany Brothers of Colorado Springs, who own a large block, amount of the stock the estate of T. L. Salle and the estate of A. R. Kennedy.

MODOC ANNUAL MEETING

The stockholders of the Modoc Mining [illegible] regular annual meeting in Pueblo Thursday and as directed by the company for the ensuing year the following were elected: F. H. Frankenberg, Will J. Greer, Henry Hermann, George I. Bigelow and Charles Hermsmeyer.

The reports which were submitted to the meeting showed the company to be in excellent condition and that the treasury is not at all embarrassed by the payment of the regular monthly dividend of one cent per share on the total capitalization of 5 000 shares in [illegible]

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

There was quite a little stir in mining circles yesterday when it appeared as if the inside history of the National pool might leak out. While everyone admits that there is a pool there is very little known about the members of it or the inside workings. It was said yesterday however that the pool was disrupted that they were fighting among themselves and a few days would see the end of the high prices in National. The whole matter can be condensed into the following statement which seems to bear the stamp of truth that any pool is disrupted or that the members of it are fighting among themselves.

On the board of brokers yesterday afternoon Mr. N. Leiphimer one of the prominent members of the board was [illegible] suffered to some extent. This gave the idea that he was on the bear side of the market. About this time he made what it seems was not the first of little sarcastic remarks. It was: "There is a rumor that one of the members of the pool is selling." Mr. M. Finney, another prominent member of the board, took this as meant for himself although he admits that no names were mentioned and struck at Mr. Leiphimer. The latter made no effort to defend himself as he is just [illegible] man. The brokers soon interfered and Colier Wasson had Mr. Kinney's sarcasm often provokes a scene of this sort which both gentlemen afterward regret but the [illegible] and it is agreed that the matter is in no way connected with the inside workings of the National deal.

PORTLAND WILL PAY QUARTERLY DIVIDENDS

It was decided yesterday by the directors of the Portland Gold Mining company that beginning with July 15 a quarterly dividend of 6 cents per share will be paid instead of a monthly dividend of [illegible] cents per share. The change is made for the purpose of economy as it means no little trouble and expense to get out checks once a month and the system of quarterly dividends is now in force by the largest companies including Isabella and Elkton. The Portland dividend will hereafter amount to $90 000 distributed quarterly on the 15th of July, October, January and April.

The regular monthly dividend of the Portland Gold Mining company was paid yesterday being at the rate of 2 [illegible] on 300 000 shares and amounting to $60 000. This makes the total amount which the company has distributed in dividends $[illegible] 000.

FAVORABLE REPORTS FROM LITTLE NELL PROPERTY

Very favorable reports were received from Cripple Creek yesterday concerning the properties of the Little Nell company. The news was to the effect that the company's main shaft which [illegible] green vein had come into [illegible] Until the last twenty four hours the [illegible] in matter continued to value [illegible] the top of an ore shoot seems to have been entered and large samples taken across the entire bottom of the shaft give values between $[illegible] and $[illegible] on the Harcourt lease of the Portland properties in entirely new territory and the ore is of a different character from that which has been shipped from the one which has been [illegible]. The lowest values obtained ran $[illegible] a ton. The rest of the property continues to be [illegible]

BOARD OF BROKERS MEET

At a meeting of the members of the Board of Brokers' association, held yesterday afternoon it was agreed to increase the membership from 1.5 to 1[illegible]. There are already many applicants for seats which will be sold for $150 each. The members were most enthusiastic when the future of the association was mentioned and agreed that they would leave no stone unturned to get their share of the business and working along the lines which have already made the board so popular. It is a matter of interest that some of the lines along which the board has worked have been adopted by the old exchange, 90-day trading to-wit.

It was also agreed that the board [illegible] national mining congress to be held [illegible] Milwaukee and that the board will pay their expenses. This was agreed upon not only because the board expects that such a representation will give it a good standing among the exchanges of the state, but because the whole association will more or less benefit from the ideas and inspiration received by their delegates.

Another important piece of business which came up was the question of [illegible] the fund to send the state exhibit of Colorado [illegible] congress and it was unanimously agreed that the board should undertake its share, and accordingly $150 was voted for that purpose.

The names of the delegates to the congress will be announced today by President Burns of the association.

SHARE AND SHARE ALIKE

OVER a year ago we gave this same advice, and time has proved the correctness of it. A decline in one will be accompanied by a corresponding rise in the other, thereby maintaining the balance, and making comparatively little change in the original cost price of both stocks.

WILSON CREEK will be a constant INSURANCE for Independence. At present quotations the cost of 1000 Shares of Wilson Creek and 1000 Shares of Independence will be considerably less than the value of 1000 of the stock which eventually comes out victorious in the pending litigation. We believe that the purchase of these two stocks, share and share alike, is about as near a "sure thing" as possible.

The combination mentioned above will, we feel sure, yield handsome profits and big dividends.

We will on Friday next, June 15, open a branch office in Manitou in the Bank Building. The stock quotations will be received there by wire direct from the Colorado Springs Exchange, and posted on the blackboard. Residents and visitors in Manitou are cordially invited to make use of our Manitou office.

Burlington Route

TRIPS!

Our cars are no better—in themselves—than the cars of other lines. It is what is INSIDE them that makes them more comfortable.

For instance: The seats in our reclining-chair cars are provided with linen head pieces—clean and cool. Our dining-cars have electric fans, and are gorgeously decorated with flowers. In every car is a thermometer, which the porter constantly consults in order to keep the temperature of his car as nearly uniform as possible.

By themselves, these things are trifles, but the sum total of them goes a long way toward making a trip over the Burlington a mighty enjoyable experience.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, June 15.—The market today on the Colorado Springs mining stock exchange was in a slightly improved condition, especially among the prospects stocks, which not only were more active but stronger as well. The shipping mines, upon the other hand, were just about as inactive as they were yesterday, and Isabella and Anaconda were the only stocks which manifested any strength at all, and the trading in those was extremely light. It has been predicted for some time that the trading in the mines would decrease to the advantage of the prospects, and although the latter are not yet active enough to say that this change has come it seems as if it may have begun.

The second call of the day was somewhat better than the first in that the trading was more general and there were some good advances made, especially in the prospects list. Although the trading in the mines list was heavy heavier than in the morning, the list is still strikingly inactive, comparing it with the record of a week ago, while the prospects are fairly lively.

In passing upon the features, National again comes first as a claimant to notice but it was rather sloppy this afternoon and went as low as 13¾, losing two cents during the call, or three cents from the price which it attained on the morning call—16¾. Again the trading was heavy, although not so extraordinary on the afternoon call. The total number of shares changing hands during the day came to 220,000. Independence T. and M. declined again after its strength in the morning, and closed with 1,000 shares selling at 47½. Theresa was in good demand, and although it perched 10½ on the morning call, it was not quite so strong in the afternoon and sold down to 9¾. The feature of pit call trading was Pointer, which advanced steadily to 10½, although it is not apparent what caused the jump. The stock was in good demand, but only 6,000 shares changed hands. In the prospects list Ida May attracted the most attention by going to 31 quite suddenly. The property is in good condition and a new lease has just been granted on a portion of it. Little Nell was very strong on account of strike reports and went up to 9, while Mollie Dwyre is still in good demand and sold up to 4½. Elkton, however, made a bad break and sold down to $1.28½. It is unlikely that a stock which advanced as radically as Elkton did could hold its gain on the present rather uncertain market. It will be remembered that the stock started at about $1.20 and went, in a few days, to $1.31, although there was no especial reason for the advance, excepting something of a demand for it, and it now seems that the demand has lessened. Isabella, after making $1.27½, went back to $1.25, where it will probably settle comfortably until its next periodical spurt. Jack Pot sold as low as 58½, but Portland was strong at $3.10, and Vindicator went to $1.50. 1000 shares selling at that price. Acacia sold as high as 36¼, but closed at 36.

The total sales for the day came to 567,000 shares exchanged, the total cash value being $102,191.00.
